

A PINE TREE

The pine tree is called the singing tree. Did you ever hear the pine trees sing?

The pine trees grow straight and tall and have dark green needles.

When a pine tree has room to grow the limbs at the top point up, those toward the center out, while the lower limbs point downward.

In making a brush drawing of a pine suggest the growth of the limbs and trunk as shown in the first picture on this page. Then complete by massing in the tree.

Using brush and ink or color make several drawings of the pine tree on this page.

Then see if you can draw a pine tree without looking at the book.

If there are pine trees in your neighborhood make brush drawings of them.

